Course Introduction

The course Introduction to Sports Law (for Non-Lawyers) is a four-week open course (every Wednesday two hours online), offered by the Academy of Leadership Sciences Switzerland.

Whatever industry you are part of today you are in touch with the legal regulation that frames it. This is especially so for Sports being covered mostly by private sports regulations. But not everyone has a legal background which can make the everyday life more complicated.

This is exactly why we are providing this course intended for the non-lawyers.

The course is designed and delivered by recognized experts in Sports Law. It is being offered as an open course and can be attended by anyone who is, or aspires to get, involved in the industry of sports - including sports administrators, scientists involved in sports, employees of national anti-doping organizations, sports federations, Students, current and former athletes, among others.

The Course provides an easy taught legal perspective of the industry and is aimed to fill in the gaps of everyone who already is or is aspiring to get involve in the industry.

Coursecontent

Even though the program lasts 4 weeks it covers main legal aspects related to sport but translated into the every-day (non-Legal Language). The course covers the general topics on sport-related issues including the international regulation of sport, sport governing bodies, ethics, contracts, anti-doping, dispute resolution and other topics.

Accreditation and certification

Testimonials

In my opinion, providing comprehensive education to coaches today requires incorporating some sensitive topics, such as safeguarding or anti-doping. I think that a basic understanding of sports law is necessary if one is working among these lines. The "Introduction to Sports Law (for Non-Lawyers)" course delivered what I was looking for: I got a very good overview of the regulatory mechanisms of sports. The seminars were easy to follow, and the topics were presented in a way that non-lawyers can also understand - just as promised. Thank you, Academy of Leadership Sciences Switzerland, and especially Petra Pocrnic Perica, PhD, LL.M. for the opportunity!

Coach Education Manager

I very much appreciated the short course on Sports law for non-lawyers, both for the content and how it was held. Learning about the foundations and the legal principles regulating sports - including the fact that it is continuously evolving - has allowed me to better understand and appreciate certain decision processes. This will also help me when representing my country's sport federation at international meetings and congresses, be it for presenting our submissions or for voting.
